JAS. CUNISON.

FALKLAND, August 31. 1798.

THIS day the PUBLIC SCHOOL was examined in presence of the Magistrates and several other Gentlemen, by the Minister of the Parish, and the Rev PETER BARCLAY at Kettle. They were highly pleased with the proficiency of the Scholars, and with much pleasure they give this public testimony to Mr GARDINER's skill and diligence in teaching.

He has accommodation for a few Boarders, and it may be depended upon that the greatest attention will be given to the education and morals of any who may be committed to his care.

PRESERVATION OF GAME.

THE EARL of ROSEBERY being resolved to preserve the Game upon his Estates in Mid and West Lothian, hopes that no person will shoot, hunt or kill Game thereon, without liberty from him in writing, which will not be granted, or allowed of, at any rate, in the Park, Parks, or Barony of Barnbougle, being all either pleasure grounds, or under young hedges and plantations.

N. B.—Poachers will be prosecuted according to law; and the tenants and others have powers and orders to watch and inform against offenders.

SALE OF LANDS POSTPONED.

THE ROUP of the LANDS of BALHALL, in the parish of Menmuir, and county of Forfar, advertised for the 28th inst. is put off to a future day, as will be afterwards advertised.

BLEACHFIELD TO SELL OR LET.

A BLEACHFIELD in the parish of Strathblane, consisting of 15 or 16 acres of excellent land, with the Houses, Machinery, and Utensils, fit for bleaching. It is well calculated for an extensive Printfield, or may be turned into a Cotton Mill, the houses being built for either purpose, and having a steady supply of excellent water for any machinery. It is near coal, and within 12 miles of Glasgow.

For farther particulars, apply to Macleroy, Finlay and Co.

Who have for Sale,

Several STEADINGS of GROUND at Craignestock, Greenhead. Glasgow, 28th Aug. 1798.

EAST LOTHIAN MILITIA.

THE following Persons drawn by first and second Ballot as part of the quota of Militiamen for the County of East Lothian, having failed to appear themselves, or procure substitutes, notwithstanding various intimations served upon them by a constable, and advertisements in the newspapers, and otherways made in terms of the statute, viz.

PARISH OF DUNBAR.

Robert Ross, carter in Dunbar.
William Haigs, baker in Dunbar.
William Neilson, labourer in Dunbar.
Alexander Instant, gardener in East Barns.

DIRLETON.

Alexander Dobie, gardener in Archerfield.—and
Thomas Walker from Edinburgh, accepted of, sworn in, and inrolled as a substitute for Robert Dickson, farmer at Kingalaw, in the parish of Tranent, by the Meeting of Lieutenancy held the 25th June last, but who never since appeared, or joined the regiment at Dalkeith.

The foresaid persons were therefore deemed to have forefeited the penalties in the Militia Act, and declared deserters. And the above parishes are hereby required, within one kalendar month from this date, to procure fit and able persons to serve instead of said deserters, otherways the Lieutenancy and Justices of the Peace of this county, will, upon Tuesday the 30th day of October next, at 11 o'clock forenoon, proceed to ballot for others in their place, in the Town-house of Haddington, out of the general lists of these respective parishes. This makes in necessary for the parishes at large, and in particular for these persons whose names are in the general lists, and still undrawn, to endeavour to have the above persons apprehended, or to procure others in their stead, to prevent a new ballot.

TWEEDDALE, Lieutenant.
JOHN CRAW, Clk.

HOUSE AND FARMS IN MID LOTHIAN TO LET.

To be LET and entered into at Martinmas next, for what term of years shall be agreed upon,

THE HOUSE and INCLOSURES of BELLFIELD, with the FARM of WEST LANTON adjoining.

Belfield contains 65¼ Scots acres, is divided into eight inclosures, all arable land, except a few strips of old planting.

The farm of West Lanton contains 63¾ Scots acres, of arable land, including about 1¼ acres of old planting. This farm is also inclosed and subdivided into five inclosures.

These farms are situated 12 miles west from Edinburgh, and about half a mile south of the great road by Mid Calder to Glasgow, and within 1¼ mile of Raw-camp Lime-works.—They will be let together or separately as may be afterwards agreed upon.

Offers in writing may be given in to Hugh Bremner, accountant, Edinburgh, or to M'Kenzie Stobbie, at Dalmahoy who will shew the farms and inform as to particulars.

PASTURE FARM TO BE LET.

THE FARM of GARVALDFOOT, with the Mansion-house, Garden, and Offices, in the parish of Dolphington, and shire of Peebles, as presently possessed by Colonel Shettlewood, is to be Let for three years, and entered to at Martinmas next. The lands consist of about 164 Scots acres, all inclosed and subdivided. The house will accommodate a large family—the situation is pleasant; and both upon the premisses, and in the immediate neighbourhood, there is excellent shooting and fishing.

The house, offices and garden, will either be let along with the farm or separately.

Henry Dickson at Melling, will shew the grounds; and offers for a lease may be given in to John Syme, writer to the signet, betwixt and 1st of October next.

TO BE LET,

And entered into at the term of Whitsunday next, 1799,

THE MAINS of LETHEN and GRASSING of DALTERA, both in the county of Nairn.

The Mains, consisting of about 80 acres arable, all laid down with grass (except 24 acres presently under crop, which, with the ensuing crop, will also be laid down with grass) is all enclosed and subdivided, and sufficiently well watered. There is besides the arable ground several inclosures of planting of various kinds, as well as natural growth, so as to afford good shelter, both summer and winter, for cattle—and the grasing of Daltera is only distant from the Mains about four miles, so that both conjoined farms are one of the completest grassings in the north, and greatly merits the attention of dealers in cattle.

These are to be let for three or five years, as offerers and the proprietor can agree—but none of the arable ground is to be broken up during the lease.

Persons inclining to offer may apply to Miss Brodie of Lethen, any time before the 1st of November, at Lethen-house, and thereafter by post to her at Edinburgh. John Walker the grieve, will shew the premisses.

To the CREDITORS of
ROBERTSON AND BALVAIRD.

THE Trustees having now received from Mr James Balvaird the 400l. Sterl. agreed to be paid by him, request a meeting of the creditors at the King's Arms Tavern, at 12 o'clock, on Wednesday, 3d October next, when sundry matters of importance will be submitted to their consideration, and a day fixed for a division of the sums received.

Not to be repeated.

BRICKS FOR SALE AT STIRLING.

ABOUT One Hundred and Thirty or Forty Thousand NEW BURNT BRICKS of the best quality, made by complete workmen from England, will be Sold to the highest bidders, on Monday the 17th day of September current, at mid-day, in one or more lots, on the field next the Craigs of Stirling.—As also all the necessary IMPLEMENTS for a Brickfield.

For other particulars apply to Mr Hamilton of Inchsture, or Alexander Littlejohn, writer in Stirling. Not to be repeated.

LANDS IN PERTHSHIRE TO BE SOLD.

To be SOLD, by public voluntary roup, within the house of John Crockat, vintner in Cupar Angus, upon Thursday the 1st November next, betwixt the hours of twelve noon and one afternoon,

THE MIDDLE DIVISION of the LANDS of BARDMONY, on the north of the Water of Isla, that belonged to William Ireland, feuer in Bardmony, containing 65 acres of good infield and haugh land, or thereby, as presently possessed by John Duncan, and others, lying in the parish of Alyth and county of Perth.

These lands are pleasantly situated on the north bank of the Isla, within three miles of Cupar Angus, and fifteen of the ports of Dundee and Perth; they may be entered to at Whitsunday next, when the present lease expires; and for the encouragement of a purchaser, a considerable part of the price will be allowed to remain in his hands, to answer an annuity affecting them.

The progress of writs and articles of roup may be seen by applying to John Adamson, writer in Edinburgh, or Edward Warden, writer in Cupar Angus, to either of whom intended offerers may apply for further information.

FARMS IN STIRLINGSHIRE TO LET.

To be LET for 19 years, or such number of years as may be agreed upon,

THE following FARMS, part of the Estate of PLEAN, in the parish of St Ninians, and county of Stirling, viz.

I. The Farm of WOODCOCKFAULD, presently possessed by William Paul, containing 73 acres or thereby. Entry at Martinmas 1798.

II. The Farm of PLEAN-BANK, presently possessed by William Dun, contains 67 acres or thereby. Entry at Martinmas 1799.

III. The Farm of CUSHINQUARTER-EASTER, possessed by James Robertson, containing 69 acres or thereby. Entry at Martinmas 1800.

IV. The Farm of CUSHINQUARTER-WESTER, containing 69 acres or thereby, possessed by Alexander Robertson. Entry at Martinmas 1800.

V. The Farm of DURIESHILL-HAUGH, possessed by Robert Mitchell, containing 120 acres or thereby. Entry at Martinmas 1801.

VI. The Farm of DURIESHILL, possessed by John Paul, containing 80 acres or thereby. Entry at Martinmas 1801.

All the above farms are arable, except some small spots, are of good dry soil, and well calculated for turnip husbandry, lie adjoining to the turnpike road leading from Falkirk to Stirling, and from Denny to Stirling, are partly inclosed, and within a few miles of the county town, and the great canal. Upon the lands there is a lime stone quarry, level free, which the tenants will have the use of for working, and a colliery upon the estate. So that few places have such advantages for improvement.

Offers in writing may be given in to James Stormonth, writer in Edinburgh, or James Henderson, writer in Falkirk, the factor over the estate, and who will inform as to any further particulars. Such offers as are not accepted, will be concealed, if desired.

ADVICE TO BATHERS, SEA BATHERS, &c.

DR BRODUM begs leave to recommend the BOTANICAL SYRUP (the virtues of which are acknowledged by persons of the first fashion and distinction) to Bathers, immediately after quitting the bath, and one hour before, and in particular to those that are subject to eruptions arising from vitiated humours, scurvy, &c. The quantity taken each time two table spoonfuls.

To nervous and debilitated constitutions in general, owing to an irregular course of life—as hard drinking, excessive grief, and those debilities brought on by not knowing the dangerous tendency of a certain habit, contracted at an early age, the Doctor recommends the Nervous Cordial; two tea spoonfuls of which to be taken one hour before bathing, and one hour after. Ten minutes walk after is necessary.

The Nervous Cordial has been particularly efficacious in America, where even a thousand persons were saved during the late prevalence of the yellow fever. The Doctor particularly recommends the above Medicine to persons going out to the East or West Indies, where the change of air and climate require the aid of Medicine to prevent the dangerous consequences resulting to various constitutions.

A good allowance to merchants and captains of ships, &c. for exportation, on giving three days notice.

"SIR,

"As one of my family has long been afflicted with a dreadful nervous complaint, for which she has had every medical assistance, has also been to Bath and Hot-wells, without receiving any benefit, by the recommendation of a friend she tried your Nervous Cordial, which I am happy to inform you has effected a perfect cure; as such I do most cordially recommend to all persons afflicted with the above complaint to take the Nervous Cordial, as it is my firm opinion that the Medicine is calculated to remove all nervous and bilious disorders. The Rev. T. FILEWOOD.

Aug. 4. 1798. Micklerow, near Dorking, Surry."

To Dr Brodum, No. 9. Albion Street, Blackfriars }

To be had at the Doctor's house, No. 9. Albion Street, London in bottles at 1l. 2s. 11s. 6d. and 5s. 6d.—and of J. BAXTER, Italian Warehouse, South Bridge, Edinburgh; J. Mennons, printer, Glasgow; and J. Chalmers, printer, Aberdeen.

 To those Ladies and Gentlemen bordering on the state of matrimony, the Doctor would particularly recommend the Botanical Syrup (prior to their appearance before the altar of Hymen), who are in the smallest degree apprehensive of the system not being entirely sound, or subject to relaxations of the solids.

London

SEPTEMBER 8.

The Hamburgh mail which arrived on Friday brought to Lord Grenville and Lady Nelson, letters from Sir Horatio, dated from Syracuse, the 22d July, where he arrived with his squadron the 19th preceding, having in vain explored almost every port in the Mediterranean in quest of the Toulon fleet. It appears that having obtained a supply of water, and some necessaries of which he stood in need, he was about to proceed from Sicily for Egypt.

Official dispatches were received by the same conveyance, from our Ministers at Naples and Vienna, announcing the return of the British Admiral to Sicily, having looked into Alexandria a second time on the 8th July, at which time Buonaparte had not arrived there. It appears, however, that this General landed his army there on the 17th following, he having, by circumstances equally fortunate and extraordinary escaped our fleet.

We have the satisfaction to state, that the voluntary contributions (free gifts) for the defence of the country now exceed one million and a half, which is the sum taken credit for by the Chancellor of the Exchequer; and we have reason to think, before the close of the different subscriptions, there will be a surplus of at least half a million.

Saturday arrived a mail from the West Indies, brought to Falmouth by the Halifax Packet.

The Ramilies, of 74 guns, Captain Rowley, has been detached from Lord Bridport's fleet, and is arrived off Dublin harbour. Captain Rowley has orders to take the Melampus and Phœnix frigates under his command. The object of this little squadron is to intercept any additional succours which the French may attempt to throw into Ireland.

A letter from Naples dated July 31st says, the English ship of war the Lion, of 64 guns, came to anchor here yesterday. It is laden with ammunition for the English fleet.

The arrival of Lady Fitzgerald at Hamburgh is thus mentioned in the French papers:—"On the 5th August the natural daughter of Philip D'Orleans, so well known by the name of Pamela, and by the part which Lord Edward Fitzgerald, her husband, performed in Ireland, arrived at Hamburgh."

Last night, after post, sailed from Spithead, the Barfleur, Northumberland, Jason, Success, and Meleager.

This day three of the East India ships, full of troops, sailed for Ireland.

All the troop ships gone to Ireland, have on board a number of field-pieces, and a great quantity of ordnance stores.

HAMBURGH MAILS.

This day two mails arrived from Hamburgh, brought over in the Carteret packet, Captain Hammond, and the Prince of Wales, Captain Hearn. Our commercial readers will rejoice to hear that the balance of trade is so much in our favour, that hardly a packet arrives without considerable remittances in specie. These two packets have brought over nearly 100,000l.

Several Greek commercial houses at Vienna, have received letters from Constantinople, of the date of the 25th of July, which give a circumstantial account of the landing of the French at Alexandria, which took place without opposition. Buonaparte immediately published a proclamation to the inhabitants, in which he promised them his friendship and protection so long as they should attempt nothing against the French, but threatened them with the severest vengeance in case of opposition.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 25.

The news of the arrival and landing of the French army under General Buonaparte in Egypt, was first brought by the Captain of a merchant ship, with the Austrian flag.

The intelligence was received by our Court and Ministry with great surprise. The French charge d' Affaires, Ruffin, was immediately after sent for to a conference, which, for the length of time it lasted, was quite unexampled, as it continued for fourteen hours, from before noon till midnight. The result is not exactly known, but it is said that Ruffin expresly declared, that the expedition of Buonaparte was undertaken exclusively against England, the most implacable enemy of France, and by no means against the territories of the Turkish Emperor; that the French Directory would hold sacred the interests of the Porte, and faithfully observe the existing treaties.

MILAN, August 9.

According to our Gazettes it has been discovered, that one Cinno was the person who at Leghorn invented and circulated the story of a sea engagement between the English and French fleets, in which Buonaparte was made prisoner, and seven French ships of the line taken. This report, which has caused so much alarm throughout Italy, is now declared by our Gazettes to be totally without foundation. On the contrary, they assert, that a merchant ship, which arrived at Leghorn in five days from Naples, brings intelligence that the Toulon convoy arrived safely, part at Alexandria and part at Alexandretta (Scanderoon near Aleppo.)—These places are above 200 leagues distant from each other, and it seems somewhat improbable that the arrival of the French ships at Alexandretta in Syria should be heard of at Naples, as soon as the arrival of the others in Egypt.

It is, however, confidently asserted, that Buonaparte, when off Candia, divided his convoy into two parts; one of which sailed for Syria, and the other for Egypt. It is also said, that the troops landed in Egypt will, on their arrival at Suez, find fifty-three vessels, completely equipped, to carry them and their artillery and ammunition down the Red Sea; and that by the end of December the whole army of Buonaparte will be in India.

READING ROOMS.

Three persons were summoned yesterday before the above magistrates, upon information laid against them at the suit of the Crown, for having let newspapers out to hire for small sums of money, contrary to the statute of the 29th Geo. III. § 9, c. 50, which states, that, "If any hawker of any newspaper, or other persons shall let out any newspaper for hire to any person or persons, or to different persons, or from house to house, he, she, or they so offending, shall forfeit the sum of five pounds."

The first witness summoned upon those informations was Wm. Williams of Old Round Court in the Strand, and against whom six informations were laid for the same offence, who, upon being called upon to plead to the first, pleaded not guilty. The witness called to prove the fact was Francis Gibbs, who stated, that on the 2d day of May last, he went to the defendant's house in Old Round Court, as before stated, where he read the Daily Advertiser of that day, and for which he paid Williams one penny; this evidence was not contradicted, but it was strongly contended by a Mr Barry, who attended as Williams's Counsel, that according to the letter of the law, the offence was not clearly proved, the defendant having only received one penny for the witness's admission into his room, and at which place he may read many pamphlets and other newspapers.

Several other objections were also taken as to the information not being laid in a formal manner, the evidence adduced not agreeing in every point with the information. In all those objections he was very ably answered by Mr Estcourt, Solicitor to the Stamp Office, who conducted the whole of the prosecutions, and the Magistrates being clearly of opinion that the charge against him was made out in a complete manner, they convicted him in the full penalty of five pounds.

The defendant was then informed by Mr Estcourt, that if he would promise not to be guilty of the like offence, he would withdraw the other five informations, in order to shew him that it was not for the sake of the penalties he was summoned, but as an example to others.

William Peachy, of Coventry Court, and William Arne, of the same Court, were also summoned upon six informations each, and fined in the penalties of 5l. each; the other informations being withdrawn by Mr E. on their making the same promises as Williams.

THIS DAY's POST.

LONDON—Sept. 10.

HAMBURGH MAIL.

RECEIVED ON SUNDAY.

Arrival of Admiral Nelson at Syracuse, and of Buonaparte at Alexandria.

The Brunn Gazette of the 22d ult. states, that Buonaparte sent a written declaration to Constantinople, immediately after his landing at Alexandria, "that he will consider a permission for the Russians to pass through the Dardanelles as a declaration of war of the Porte against the French Republic; that he expects the Porte will resist such a demand with all her force; and that he places the more reliance on this proof of friendship as he had delivered the Porte from her inveterate enemies the Knights of Malta."

Letters from Vienna of the 22d August, state, that Admiral Nelson, having in vain sought Buonaparte in most of the ports of the Mediterranean and Archipelago had returned to Syracuse on the 28th July. They add that the French fleet reached Alexandria on the 8th or 9th, when Buonaparte effected a debarkation.

A letter from Genoa of the 11th ult. states the arrival of Captain Caraffo in twelve days from Messina, with intelligence that the English fleet, under Admiral Nelson, not having been able to overtake Buonaparte, had returned, and was at his departure off Syracuse.

Letters from the frontiers of Italy, dated the 16th of August, state a war between France and Naples as certain. The French are forming two armies in Italy, the one to act against his Sicilian Majesty, the other is assembling near Piacenza.

The Brunn Gazette of the 22d ult. states, that large bodies of French troops were then marching through the Roman territory against Naples.

Colonel Crawford continues ill of his wounds at Hamburgh; he is to return to England as soon as he can sustain the fatigues incident to the journey.

The Duchess of Cumberland was, on the 19th inst. about to leave Frankfort for Hamburgh.

Letters from the Hague of the 25th ult. state, that Citizen Hettema had been excused serving the office of Director, by proving that he had not resided 20 years in the Dutch Republic.

The Batavian Republic has offered its mediation in adjusting the existing differences between France and America. Schemmelpennink, the Dutch minister at Paris, is engaged in the subject. The treaty of commerce between France and Batavia is on the eve of conclusion.

Letters from Basle of the 22d ult. announce, that most of the communes in the Grisons country, have rejected the proposition for an union with the Helvetic Republic, and that in many places the patriots and adherents of France have been ill treated.

According to letters from Stutgard of the 23d ult. 30 battalions of infantry, and 10 squadrons of cavalry, had received orders to proceed to Switzerland, to reinforce Gen. Schauenberg, who is to invade the Grisons. The Austrians, it is stated, have possessed themselves of Chur, and occupy the defiles which command this country.

The following is an extract from the Posnania Gazette: "Prince Repnin goes from Dresden to Vienna, to negociate for the passage of 60,000 Russian troops through Gallicia and Austria. Those troops, they say, will unite with the Austrian troops on the frontiers of Switzerland—Several Russian regiments are already said to be arrived in Gallicia."

The Erlangen Gazette, of the 15th ult. states, that England pays to Russia a subsidy of 300,000l. for the service of the Russian squadrons which at present act in concert with our fleets.

The Portuguese squadron in the Mediterranean, consisting of one 110 gun ship, 3 frigates of 44 guns, and a fire ship of 18 guns, is commanded by Captain Nist.

According to letters from Palermo, in Sicily, a Spanish flotilla is arrived there, commanded by the Marquis de Spinola.

The Russian minister, Baron Alopaus, is gone from Ratisbon to Hamburgh.

According to letters from Stockholm, of the 22d ult. the British Cabinet has given the most positive assurances that no Swedish convoy shall in future be intercepted.

The Hamburgh Gazette of the 31st ult. contains a letter from Selim, dated the 22d, which states, that Passwan Oglu had capitulated, and returned to his allegiance to the Porte, in consideration of being confirmed in the government of Widdin, created a Pacha of three tails, and full amnesty granted to his followers. In consequence of this arrangement, the troops of the Seignior had left the banks of the Danube, to quell some insurrection of the people in Macedonia.

Great ferment continued to prevail at Constantinople, in consequence of the invasion of Egypt by the French. The Grand Seignior has individually undertaken to superintend and direct the measures of the police. The plague still makes great ravages in that capital—Warlike preparations in both the naval and military departments were prosecuting with activity—Considerable levies of troops from Asia had arrived, and been dispatched to the coasts of the Mediterranean—the marine was augmenting—Rice, cotton, and other articles, had greatly risen in price, in consequence of the English and French fleets arriving in the Turkish seas.

The recruiting service at Vienna is carried on with spirit, and is general and active throughout the provinces. Prince Alexander, of Wirtemburgh, is appointed by the Emperor to be Lieutenant-Field-Marshal.

According to accounts from Rome, the insurrection in the department of Circeo is not yet entirely quelled. The insurgents driven from Ferrintino, remain in the open country in small detached bodies, and have raised companies called the companies of the Good Jesus.—Even at Rome, it is found necessary to double the guards, and take measures of precaution against the Transtiverines.—The engagement near and in Ferrentino was extremely bloody; the report of the French General says, "French and Polish blood has been shed, but the vengeance has been terrible."

Another letter from Milan, of the 14th ult. states, that the French Generals in the Republic of Rome have found it necessary to suspend the power of the Five Consuls, and put the country under military Government. The national standard has been removed from their palace. The Government is now vested in a French Commission.

The whole country which separates the Roman territories from those of Naples, was in a state of ferment, and in some places they hoisted the Neopolitan standard. At Terracina, on the 30th of July, the French Commandant, and some of his people were murdered. The insurgents kept up intelligence with the Transtiverines.

The packet, by which the Hamburgh mail of Sunday morning was brought to England, on Friday passed close by Lord Duncan's fleet, and was spoken by the Proserpine frigate—all well; it was then calm.

This morning arrived a mail from Jamaica, brought to Falmouth by the Royalty schooner, in forty-six days.

Saturday dispatches were received at the office of the Secretary to the Admiralty, from Henry Harvey, Esq. Rear Admiral of the Red squadron at Martinico. Nothing appears to have occurred on the Leeward Island station. Some small prizes had been captured by the cruizers.

The Duke of York, it is reported, purposes, in the course of the present and ensuing months, to make a military survey of the northern encampments. He is expected at Hilston and Dunlington on the 20th inst.

A person at Paris has invented a travelling kitchen for the army. It is mounted on a single car, and not only carries provisions for 1200 men, but cooks them on the road, and keeps them in proper condition till the day's march is ended.

Passengers from Gibraltar.

By the Alexander Transport, Lieut. Mason, Royal Artillery; Lieut Hazard, Royal Engineers; Mr James Granby Stones, and Mr George Ince.

By the Chatham Transport, Mr William O'Brien.

HIGH TREASON.

John Fitzpatrick Jeffrys, alias Johnson, was on Saturday morning apprehended by Revett, one of the Bow-street officers, under a warrant from the Duke of Portland, which charged him with high treason. Revett said, that going through Smithfield in the morning, he met the prisoner, and, from the description he had received of him, thought that he was the person against whom he had a warrant in his pocket; he followed him, and called him by his name, to which he readily answered, and then asked him if he did not live with Messf. Bell and Higgins, in Aldersgate-street, to which he replied, he did.

Revett told him he had the Duke of Portland's warrant for taking him into custody, and accordingly brought him to Bow Street. In the afternoon he was examined before William Wickham and John Floud, Esqs. at the Duke of Portland's office, where he obstinately refused answering any questions put to him, except telling his age, which was 19. He said if they had any accusation against him, he was ready to take his trial immediately.

The charge, we understand, is that of having taken the command of one of the rebel regiments, near Wexford; and afterwards making his way from Wexford to Dublin, where he got a passport for England from one of the Magistrates in the name of Johnston. His relations live in London; and since his return from Ireland, he has been employed in the house of Mess. Bell and Higgins.

He was committed to the House of Correction for further examination.

BATH, Sept. 5.

Saturday last died of a gradual decline, aged above threescore years, Richard Hutchinson, better known by the name of Foolish Dick, who has been for the last forty years a regular attendant on the servants of the lodging-houses on the parades, Abbey-green, and that neighbourhood; where he regularly came early every morning, receiving from one or another his daily supply of food, and returned to his lodgings in Widcombe as regularly every evening. The weakness of his intellects drew on him the compassion, as the innocent simplicity of his behaviour did the regard, of many persons in the upper and lower walks of life. The late David Garrick, Esq, for many years during his life, allowed him 1s. a week, which he also left him at his death. He regularly attended all meetings of the religious society of Quakers, and was allowed by them likewise 1s. a week. At every funeral of any note, poor Dick was a constant attendant.

EDINBURGH—SEPTEMBER 13.

By the Hamburgh mails which have arrived, there are a variety of reports respecting an engagement between the fleet under Admiral NELSON and that with General BUONAPARTE—They are to the same effect as what was formerly given, viz. that the French fleet had been defeated with the loss of several ships of the line and 57 transports. These reports, however, we are sorry to say, do not seem well founded, as letters are received from the British Admiral, stating he was on his return, not having fallen in with the enemy.

The accounts from Adm. NELSON are said to contain information, that the British fleet was at Syracuse on the 22d July, and that after remaining at Syracuse for five days longer, (that was, till the 27th July) it was Sir H. Nelson's intention to put again to sea, and stand up to the eastward.

The fleet under the command of Admiral Nelson, having been reinforced by the Portuguese squadron and the Lion of 64 guns, now consists of nineteen sail of the line, and ten frigates.

By advices from Constantinople, it appears that BUONAPARTE landed at Alexandria on the 5th and 6th of July, and got possession of the place; but not without great resistance. The Turks were making vigorous preparations for war.

Although the above is by most of the London papers asserted to be facts, yet we have seen one which positively says, that no advices have been received from Admiral NELSON, and that dispatches received by Government from Lord ST VINCENT, do not contain a single word of Admiral NELSON.

The accounts by the mails continue to threaten a renewal of hostilities on the Continent; indeed we would be inclined to think this event unavoidable, did not the history of almost all negociations for peace shew that a similar bluftering noise has always accompanied them, which, however, means nothing in reality.

The attempt of the French on Ireland has terminated in the capture of the whole party who landed and in the destruction of these deluded and ungrateful rebels who joined them. See particulars in a following column.

Saturday last, 21 pockets of new hops, and 45 pockets of yearlings, were weighed in Liverpool market—The average price of the former was 7l 7s per cwt. and the latter sold from 7l to 8l.

Died here on the 9th curt. Mr JOHN CALLANDER, formerly one of the Depute-Clerks of Session.

The collections at the two sermons lately preached by Mr STRUTHERS, for the Philanthropic Society, amount to 50l.

Mr ERSKINE of Marr has sent from Alloa a very liberal donation of coals to the Public Dispensary of Edinburgh.

On Friday last, Dr THOMAS SPENS, Dr JAMES BUCHAN, and Dr ANDREW DUNCAN, junior, were unanimously appointed Physicians to the Edinburgh Dispensary, at a quarterly meeting of the Managers.

Tuesday, a discovery was made of some workmen, belonging to a respectable Company in town, who have for some time past been in the practice of purloining various articles from their masters shop. Three persons suspected have already been apprehended, examined, and committed to prison. A considerable quantity of the stolen goods have been recovered, and search is making for more. It appears the persons concerned in these depredations have been connected with persons of the most abandoned characters, in whose houses a great part of the property was found. As this matter is under legal investigation, we forbear for the present saying any more on the subject

The circumstance, however, suggests to us the propriety of calling to the recollection of the public the ROGUE MONEY ASSOCIATION, which formerly existed in this city, and was found to be attended with the most salutary effects. Where the case happens that a tradesman is defrauded by his workmen, or any other depredator, it is frequently very unpleasant for the individual to appear in the character of a prosecutor; besides it is not uncommon that after incurring considerable expence, he fails in recovering his property, at least so much of it as will indemnify the necessary charges.—From these and other considerations, many persons are induced rather to sustain the loss than commence a prosecution, or when it is commenced to abandon it before the matter has been fully investigated.

The principles upon which this association was founded are well known. A fund was raised by subscription, and a common agent appointed, who prosecuted, at the expence of the fund, in any case where fraud was committed against a subscriber.

In order to raise a sufficient sum for a stock purse, it might probably be a good criterion to make subscribers pay sixpence for each workman employed. The after annual subscriptions might be one shilling, and not exceeding five shillings.

The GRANTOWN COMPANY OF STRATHSPEY VOLUNTEERS, commanded by Capt. GRANT, of Tullochgorum, were inspected at Grantown, on Friday the 31st ult. by Major MACASKELL, who was pleased to express in most flattering terms, to the officers and men upon the field, before a numerous and respectable company, his entire approbation of the prompt discipline, soldier-like appearance, and good conduct of this fine company. Sir James Grant of Grant, Lord Lieutenant of the county, Lady Georgina Gordon, Lady Anne Duff, Lady Grant of Grant, Mrs Rose, Miss Grant of Grant, Miss Roses, Col. Fraser, W. Grant, Major Louis Grant, of Achernich, Major Alexander Grant, &c. were present.—After the review the men received a suitable refreshment on the field, and the company dined at Castle Grant.

Saturday, about twelve at night, while JOHN FARLIE, a labourer, was stepping out of a boat at lock No. 16, Great Canal, near Falkirk, he unfortunately fell into the water and was drowned. He has left a wife and one child.

Partridge shooting begins the 14th inst. in Scotland. From the fine season, the birds are reported to be plenty.

Strangers still continue to be sent from Vienna; among these are a number of Italian priests, it is said, who had no other mode of living, except saying of masses and selling consecrated eggs.

AIR, September 11.

An express passed through about half-past six o'clock this morning from Portpatrick, addressed to the Adjutant-General. The business on which it has been sent is not known, but from the address it must relate to the forces or equipage of the troops, as any thing of a higher nature would have been addressed to the Commander in Chief.

On the corner of the way-bill this morning from Stranraer, is written that the French were totally defeated by General LAKE on the 8th, and signed

A. GIBB, Clerk to the Post office.

AT EDINBURGH, THE 29TH DAY OF AUGUST, 1798.

Which day, the Right Honourable the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the city of Edinburgh being assembled, on motion by the Lord Provost, seconded by the first Baillie, resolved unanimously, That the thanks of the Council and Community be given to the Right Honourable HENRY DUNDAS, one of his Majesty's principal secretaries of state, for his constant attention to the interests of the community during the whole period of his being the representative of the city in Parliament; particularly for the great attention and trouble taken by him during the last session, in obtaining two acts of Parliament; one for continuing the duty of two pennies on the pint of ale, payable to the city for the further term of 38 years, and the other for making a new bason or wet dock, and enlarging and improving the harbour of Leith. And also resolved unanimously, That the thanks of the Council and Community be given to WILLIAM DUNDAS, Esq. member of Parliament, for the particular attention he paid, and the great trouble he took relative to these two acts of parliament; and requested the Lord Provost, in name of the Council, to transmit an extract of this act to the Right Honourable HENRY DUNDAS; and also to WILLIAM DUNDAS, Esq. Extracted from the Council Record by JOHN GRAY, Clerk.

CIRCUIT INTELLIGENCE.

GLASGOW, SEPT. 12.

The Circuit Court of Justiciary was opened here on Saturday by Lords METHVEN and ESKGROVE, when they proceeded in the trial of ATHOL MOONE, corporal in the first battalion of the first regiment of foot, for the murder of JAMES GRAY, weaver in Calton, by stabbing him with a bayonet on the 27th January last.—The Jury returned a verdict of culpable homicide, and their Lordships sentenced him to three months imprisonment, at the expiry of which time he is to rejoin his regiment.

DAVID COUSTOUN, late workman at Croftmill bleachfield, and JOHN JOHNSTON, weaver in Pollockshaws, accused of being members of the society of United Scotchmen, and as such committing several acts of sedition, were outlawed for not appearing to stand trial.

Thereafter came on the trial of WILLIAM DRON, inkle-weaver in Glasgow, for stealing from the bleachfield of Newfield, near Bridgeton, in the Barony parish of Glasgow, on the night between the 17th and 18th July last, eighty pair of cotton stockings, two hundred and eighty neckcloths, and various other articles. The libel being proven, he was sentenced to banishment from Scotland for fourteen years.

SOLOMON WILLIAMS, sawyer in Hamilton, accused of having, in a scuffle, struck JAMES SOMERVILLE, cowfeeder in Burntbarns, Glasgow, so violent a blow with a stone as fractured his skull, which occasioned his death, was unanimously found guilty of culpable homicide, and sentenced to three months imprisonment, and to find caution for his good behaviour for two years.—

The business before the Court being finished, the Judges on Tuesday morning set off for Inveraray.

INVERNESS, SEPT. 10.

The Circuit Court of Justiciary was opened here on Saturday the 8th current by the Right Honourable Lord DUNSINNAN.

ISOBEL DOW, indicted for child murder on the statute of King William and Queen Mary against women concealing their pregnancy, and not calling for assistance at the birth, was outlawed for not appearing to stand trial.

MARY CALDER, accused of theft, presented a petition praying for banishment, to which the public prosecutor consented, and she was banished Scotland for seven years after 12th October next.

JAMES MURDOCH and JAMES SIM were accused of murder, at least of culpable homicide, by putting in execution a caption for a debt against a man when in such a state of health that it appeared he could not be removed without imminent danger, and who actually died soon after they dismissed him, which they did after removing him some miles from his home.—In this case the pannels having paid a solatium to the family of the deceased, and a fine for the use of the poor, the public prosecutor moved the Court to desert the diet simpliciter, which was done accordingly.

EWEN CAMERON was accused of the murder of his wife by poison. He denied the charge, but petitioned for banishment, to which the Advocate-depute, on account of singular circumstances attending this case, thought it proper to consent, and he was sentenced to be banished from Scotland for life.

The latest accounts received from the English Missionaries at Otaheite mention that a whole province has been ceded to them—it is sufficient to sustain 10,000 persons. The King of that place seemed so highly pleased with an English infant born soon after the Missionaries landed, that he shewed it to a number of his subjects and indicated his joy by dancing with it in his arms.—A school has been established, where the children of the Otaheitans learn the English alphabet—The labours of the carpenters and smiths are looked at by the inhabitants with astonishment—The bread fruit has also been made use of in the administration of the sacrament——But nothing is said to stagger the Otaheitans so much as the ceremony and the conditions of marriage, as practised by the Europeans.

It is said that the Court of Vienna has ordered the sequestration of the money lent to the Bank of Vienna by the Swiss, and has prohibited the payment of bills of exchange due to them by the subjects of his Imperial Majesty.

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 6.

Sailed, the Coromandel, Ulysses, and Calcutta armed transports for Gibraltar, with the 48th and 58th regiments. The 44th does not yet go to Gibraltar. Several frigates have been ordered out to cruize off Havre, where the French have made some attempts to fit out a small armament.—The Weymouth armed transport has sailed for Ireland, with troops; and the Jason frigate on a cruize on the coast of France. Arrived, the Cameleon brig, Captain Stiles, from a cruize.

The Lisbon convoy yesterday received orders to proceed on their voyage,—the greater part had not got farther than Cowes.

IMPORTANT INTELLIGENCE.

OFFICIAL ACCOUNTS.

DUBLIN CASTLE, Sept. 5.

"By advices received from head-quarters, it appears that on the approach of the Lord Lieutenant's army, the enemy retreated yesterday morning from Castlebar towards Foxford. His Excellency was taking every measure to pursue them."

[END OF OFFICIAL ACCOUNTS.]

An account received from Major General NUGENT, by Major General BARBER, at 10 o'clock this morning.

Enniskillen, Sept. 7, 1798.

The rebel force retreated before Lord CORNWALLIS and General LAKE. They marched to Colony, were pursued by the latter, and obliged to leave eight of their guns and a tumbrill behind them. Gen. LAKE is in pursuit of the enemy to Drumkeen, where they were last night. Lord CORNWALLIS is this day on his march to Carrick, or Boyle, to surround the enemy.

The report is, that they are much disappointed in their expectations of a rising in Ireland, and of being reinforced by their countrymen, which inclines them to surrender. Their force is said to be eight hundred French and one thousand rebels.

In addition to the above, General NUGENT adds, that he had just recived a letter from Lieutenant-Colonel CRAWFORD, dated the 7th, in the morning, a Drumkeen, stating, that the enemy had left that place the same morning.

Since this account, a statement has been received of the French flying in all directions, particularly by Ballintre. You may expect to hear of a capitulation in my next.

Belfast. Sept. 8. 1798.—12 o'clock noon.

BELFAST, September 8, P. M.

General BARBER has this instant sent to inform me, that General LAKE totally defeated the whole of the French force yesterday, and took their Generals, guns, &c. destroying all the rebels that had joined them.

I am, &c.

THOS. WHINNERY, Post-master Belfast.

ENNISKILLEN, Sept. 8.

(FROM A GENERAL OFFICER.)

We are within about twenty miles of the French, who are almost surrounded, and we are of anxious expectation of hearing every moment that they have laid down their arms.

Ten o'clock P. M.

By an express arrived this instant from General LAKE, we are informed that the French were entirely defeated this morning by the troops under his command, their cannon all taken, and three Generals made prisoners, near Coloony, in the county of Leitrim.

A detachment of the Argyleshire fencibles were attacked yesterday morning near Granard, in the county of Longford, by an immense body of rebels, whom they defeated, killing near 300, with the loss of two men, and five wounded.

THE INVASION.

Our readers will recollect that in the last official account, the enemy were stated to have retired from Castlebar towards Foxford.

We have been able from good authority to ascertain that their retreat was continued during the whole of Wednesday. So terrified were the French on the approach of the Lord Lieutenant's army, that they abandoned without hesitation their strong position at Foxford, and marching through the county of Sligo, made no halt until they reached the little town of Coloony, where they remained part of the night.

Colonel VEREKER, with a small detachment of the Limerick city militia, hearing that only the rear-guard of the enemy occupied Coloony, attacked the town—but, as might be expected, was repulsed by the whole force of the French army.

At break of day on Thursday morning, the French having received intelligence that General LAKE with the advanced-guard of the Lord Lieutenant's army were close upon them, abandoned the town of Coloony with considerable haste, and took not the road to Sligo, but another road leading to Drumahair and Manor-Hamilton, in the county of Leitrim.

Shortly after the enemy had abandoned Coloony, General LAKE marched into that town, and dispatched his patroles to reconnoitre the enemy, and ascertain the course they had taken.

We learn further, that the French, sensible of their perilous situation, had abstained during this retreat from any kind of violence; and had even, as a sort of peace offering, left behind them at Coloony the Surgeon General of their army, to attend some officers of the Limerick militia who had been wounded in the attack on the town.

We may expect from the skill and activity of General LAKE the most prosperous issue to this forlorn and desperate invasion.

We understand that the General received in Colony some very curious and authentic particulars of the circumstances of the French army. It is said, that their officers declare themselves to have been grosly deceived; they expected to have been joined by the whole power of the country—by an organized and disciplined army, who only required to be put in motion to insure success.—Instead of this, they have found a fickle, barbarous, uncouth, undisciplined mob of savages—the refuse of the country—unfit for action, and incapable of order, ferocious towards their allies, and discordant amongst themselves.

The French army is said to have, at their landing, amounted to 1060 men, who, by various accidents, have been reduced to 800.—The General, HUMBERT, had distributed amongst the rebels arms and clothing for 3000 men, but had never been able to collect more than 1500 of them for service.—In short, they find themselves baffled, disappointed, and betrayed, insomuch that they had began to quarrel amongst themselves, some veteran grenadiers of the army of Italy having remonstrated very loudly with their General as having inveigled them to utter destruction.

Upon the whole, we are happy that the experiment has been made; those of the invading army who may chance to return home will, no doubt, most feelingly demonstrate to their rulers the wild absurdity of hoping to succeed in an invasion of Ireland.

The Lord Lieutenant's head-quarters were, on Thursday evening, at Carrick-on-Shannon; by this position he prevents the enemy from either crossing the Shannon, or returning into the county of Mayo.

The Galway mail coach, in going from Dublin on Monday night, was stopped at the other side of Maynooth, and robbed.

GRANARD, Sept. 5.

Yesterday, in consequence of a general report that the rebels were rising in different places between this and Edgeworthstown, Captain BELL, of the Granard Cavalry, who commands here, immediately sent off expresses to the different neighbouring corps. Fortunately Captain PALLAS's infantry and cavalry came to our assistance, with detachments of the Crossdony, Kilmore, and Longford infantry, and a strong party of the yeomanry from Cavan, under Captain COTTINGHAM.

This day the rebels attacked the town; after marching a good deal before we could come up with them, when a smart firing commenced, and in a little time they separated into two bodies, and collected all the cattle of the country, which they drove towards the town; the cavalry necessarily retreated to the town, where the rebels were received by a heavy fire from the infantry; they returned the fire, but, on another volley, broke, and fled in every direction; the cavalry then fell on, and entirely routed them. The rebels consisted of about 1500 or 2000; there was one of their Captains killed of the name of FARREL, he was a member of a yeomanry corps, and fought in full uniform; another of their Captains was a fellow named CROMIE, who has not been taken, but we soon expect to have him. Not a yeoman was killed; the rebels left upwards of a hundred dead behind them.

MULLINGAR, Sept. 6.

A party of the rebels so gallantly repulsed at Granard, attempted to reach this town this evening, but were attacked near Wilson's Hospital and utterly defeated with great loss by Lord LONGFORD's yeomanry and some of the Reay fencibles.

An account, we hear, being received by General TAYLOR, at Boyle, that the enemy driven from Castlebar were shaping their course towards the county of Roscommon, the vigilant Commander set off next morning the regulars and yeomanry corps, which constitute his army, towards Ballyhadreen, where it was supposed the enemy might have reached.

DUBLIN, Sept. 8.

OLIVER BOND died on Thursday morning in Newgate, by the surgeons' report a natural death.

Thursday a person named ROBERTS was executed pursuant to the sentence of a court martial, for having engaged in the late ill-omened rebellion. The above delinquent belonged to the artillery regiment, and had obtained a furlough, grounded upon indisposition, but joined the rebels.—He, it appeared on his trial, acted as an officer of artillery in most of the recent engagements with the insurgents, particularly at New Ross and Vinegar-hill. Some of his own regiment, who had been surprized and made prisoners, and were obliged to act for the rebels, were evidence against him, who stated that he had the command of the guns they were stationed at, and rode on horseback when giving directions.—At one particular period, when the poor men who were obliged to work the guns, had levelled them for the rebels, but not in a manner to do execution, ROBERTS observed the design, and called out to the pike-men about him to put these men to death, which they would have suffered, had it not been for the interference of one KEARNS, a superior in command, who said they should not be piked, as it appeared to him they were doing their duty.—ROBERTS had possessed himself of the epaulets worn by the late much-lamented Lord MOUNTJOY, who fell at the battle of New Ross. One of them he confessed he wore himself, when acting for the rebels, which he pretended he had been obliged to do, and the other he mentioned he had made a present of, we suppose to a brother-officer of the insurgents. He met a most impartial and indulgent trial; and when cross-examining the evidence, in several instances he confirmed his guilt. We believe there never was a man sentenced to death, who died with less pity.

We have the pleasure of stating on the most unquestionable authority, that the north western coast of Ireland is at this moment protected by a force consisting of three ships of the line, seven frigates, and several other vessels of inferior force, whose orders are to cruise between Louch Swilly and the north western extremity of Conaught.

We are concerned to have to state that several letters received in town yesterday and to-day, confirm reports which prevailed, of the counties of Westmeath and Longford being in a state of insurrection, and that the houses of several gentlemen are occupied by the insurgents, particularly those of Sir JOHN BLAQUIRE, Sir JOHN PIERS, and Lord SUNDERLAND. His Lordship with a troop of yeomanry under his command, maintained a very gallant contest with the revolters, in the neighbourhood of Granard.

Copy of a letter from the Rev. Mr PETER BROWNE, Dean of Ferns, to Brigadier General the Marquis of HUNTLY.

MY LORD, Dublin, August, 1798.

I have the honour of enclosing to you, that part of the proceedings in the last vestry held in Gorey, wherein your Lordship, and your regiment are mentioned. This mark of our respect and gratitude should have been sooner expressed, and conveyed to you, had not our calamitous situation delayed the calling of a vestry, which we conceived the most regular mode of expressing our sentiments collectively.

It may be pleasing to your Lordship, to hear that I, in the attendance of my parish, have found all the poor loud in the praise of the honesty and humanity of the privates of your regiment. They not only did not rob the wretched pittance that was left by the rebels, &c. but refused such trifling presents of provisions, &c. as were offered them—saying, "Their King paid them nobly, and enabled them to supply every want at their own expence." I have the honour to be, &c.

P. BROWNE.

COPY.

We the loyal inhabitants of the parish and vicinity of Gorey in vestry assembled, beg leave thus publicly to acknowledge the goodness and humanity evinced by the Marquis of Huntly, during his short stay amongst us. We are proud to add, that during that stay, rapine ceased to be a system, and the confidence of the people in the honour of Government began to revive. We should be wanting in gratitude, if we omitted our testimony, that the humanity of the Colonel was emulated by his soldiers; and we request the 100th regiment to accept our thanks for the moderation and honour which marked the conduct of every individual officer and private who compose it.

Ordered to be published in the Evening Post. } P. BROWNE, Rector. J. INMAN, Church-warden

COPY ANSWER.

SIR, Camp, Glen of Imael, August, 1798.

I had the honour of receiving your letter yesterday, enclosing a declaration, expressing your sentiments, and those of your parishioners, respecting the good conduct of the 100th regiment while at Gorey. I beg leave to assure you, that the regiment is highly flattered by this public acknowledgement.

Permit me to request that you will communicate my thanks to the inhabitants of Gorey, and its vicinity, for the uniform, regular, and loyal conduct which so conspicuously marked them, during the time I had the honour of commanding in that district. I have the honour to be, &c. &c.

PROCLAMATION BY THE FRENCH GENERAL.

ARMY OF IRELAND.

LIBERTY. EQUALITY.

Head Quarters at Castlebar, 14th Fructidor, sixth year of the French Republic, one and indivisible.

General HUMBERT, Commander in Chief of the army of Ireland, desirous of organizing with the least possible delay, an administrative power for the province of Connaught, decrees as follows:

1. The Government of the province of Connaught shall reside at Castlebar till further orders.

2. The Government shall be composed of twelve members, who shall be named by the General in Chief of the French army.

3. Citizen JOHN MOORE is named President of the Government of the province of Connaught; he is specially entrusted with the nomination and re-union of the members of the Government.

4. The Government shall occupy itself immediately in organizing the military power of the province of Connaught, and with providing subsistence for the French and Irish armies.

5. There shall be organized eight regiments of infantry, each of twelve hundred men, and four regiments of cavalry, each of six hundred men.

6. The Government shall declare rebels and traitors to the country all those, who having received cloathing and arms, shall not join the army within four and twenty hours.

7. Every individual from sixteen years of age to forty inclusive, is required in the name of the Irish Republic to betake himself instantly to the French camp, to march in a mass against the common enemy, the tyrant of Anglicized Ireland, whose destruction alone can establish the independence and happiness of ancient Hibernia. The General Commanding in Chief.

HUMBERT.

HOUSE OF COMMONS—Sep. 7.

A message was brought from the Lords; it was the report of their Lordships second Secret Committee, relative to an advertisement which appeared in the newspapers, signed by Arthur O'Connor, T. A. Emmet, and W. J M'Neven. (A copy of this advertisement appeared formerly in this paper)—The following contains the examinations of the above persons on oath:—

SECRET COMMITTEE,
HOUSE OF LORDS—Sep. 5.
Arthur O'Connor, Esq. sworn.

Admits that the advertisement which appeared in the Hibernian Journal and Saunders's News Letter of Monday the 27th of August last, under the signatures of Arthur O'Connor, Tho. Addis Emmet and William James M'Neven, was published by their authority.—Says he does not mean to contradict or retract any thing stated by him before this Committee or the Secret Committee of the House of Commons.—Says he has now read the evidence given by him before the Secret Committee of the House of Lords as printed in the appendix of their report, which he admits to be accurate, but wishes to explain himself upon two points contained in said evidence—1st, that Gen. Valence was not in the most distant manner connected or concerned in any negociations carried on between the Directory of the Irish Union and the French Directory—2dly, that it did not appear to him that there was any connection between the Irish Executive Directory and any society in Great Britain—on the contrary that it was proposed to the person who adjusted the terms of the alliance between the Irish Union and the French Directory in 1796, that an invasion of England should take place at the same time that Ireland was to be invaded, to dissuade them from which the Irish agent used such arguments as he believed were conclusive.

A. O'CONNOR.

Thomas Addis Emmet, Esq. sworn.

Admits that the advertisement which appeared in the Hibernian Journal and Saunders's News-Letter of Monday the 27th of August last, under the signatures of Arthur O'Connor, Thomas Addis Emmet, and William James M'Neven, was published by their authority. Says he did not by said advertisement, nor does he in any manner mean to contradict or retract any thing stated by him before this Committee or the Secret Committee of the House of Commons, but is willing to authenticate the whole of the evidence which he gave on those occasions, in any manner that may be thought fit. Declares that the said advertisement alluded solely to misrepresentations in the newspapers—Says that he has read the evidence stated in the Appendix to the Report of the Secret Committee of the House of Lords, as having been given by him before that Committee, and admits that the evidence so stated expresses nothing but the truth, but omits many reasons which he gave in justification of his own condnct and that of the members of the Union at large. Says he does not mean to contradict any thing which has been so reported with respect to the military organization of the United Irishmen in this kingdom, or the nature or object of it, which was, after they had despaired of obtaining a reform in Parliament by peaceable means, to effect a revolution by subverting the monarchy, separating this country from Great Britain, and erecting such Government in Ireland as might be chosen by the people.—Says he does not mean to contradict the details given in the said reports, of the correspondence and connection of the Irish Union with the Government of France, as far as he has any knowledge thereof, and which details he so far admits to be accurate.

THOMAS ADDIS EMMET.

Doctor William James M'Neven sworn.

Admits that the advertisement which appeared in the Hibernian Journal and Saunders's News Letter of Monday the 27th of August last, under the signatures of Arthur O'Connor, Thomas Addis Emmet, and William James M'Neven, was published by their authority.—Says he does not mean to contradict or retract any thing stated by him before this Committee, or the Secret Committee of the House of Commons. The advertisement alluded solely to the misrepresentations in the newspapers, which are not supported by the report of either House of Parliament.—Says he does not mean to contradict any thing which has been so reported with respect to the military organization of the United Irishmen in this kingdom, or the nature or object of it, which was to effect a revolution by subverting the monarchy, separating this country from Great Britain, and erecting a Republican Government in Ireland.—Says he does not mean to contradict the details given in the said reports of the correspondence and connexion of the Irish Revolutionary Union with the Government of France, which details he admits to be accurate.

LONDON GAZETTE,

ADMIRALTY-OFFICE, September 8. 1798.

Extract of a Letter from the Right Honourable Lord BRIDPORT, K. B. Admiral of the White, &c. to EVAN NEPEAN, Esq. dated on board his Majesty's ship Royal George, at sea, the 1st of September 1798.

SIR,

HEREWITH you will receive for their Lordships information, the copy of a letter of the 31st ult. from Captain Stopford, of his Majesty's ship Phaeton, stating the capture of the French privateer ship Le Mercure.

I am, Sir, &c. BRIDPORT.

Phaeton, at sea, August 31. 1798.

MY LORD,

I HAVE the honour to inform your Lordship, that this day his Majesty's ship under my command, in company with the Anson, captured a French ship privateer of eighteen guns, (pierced for twenty,) and one hundred and thirty-two men, called Le Mercure. She sailed from Bourdeaux yesterday, bound on a cruize, is quite a new vessel, copper-bottomed and fastened.

I am, my Lord, &c. ROB. STOPFORD.

Right Hon. Lord Bridport, K. B. &c.

BY letters received at this Office from the Honourable Captain De Courcy, of his Majesty's ship Magnanime, dated the 21st and 25th ultimo, addressed to Evan Nepean, Esq. it appears, that on the 16th of that month he had fallen in with and captured La Colombe French privateer, of twelve guns and sixty-four men, quite a new vessel, coppered copper-fastend, and a very fast sailer; had been only four days from Bayonne, bound to the West Indies. That on the 24th following, at two P. M. two ships of war were observed steering to the S. E. under a crowd of sail, which proved to be his Majesty's ship Naiad, Captain Pierrepont, in chace of a French frigate. At five P. M. the two British ships neared the enemy, who, after a well-directed fire for the space of one hour from her sternchace guns, at the Naiad, struck, and was immediately taken possession of. She proves to be La Decade, commanded by Le Citoyen Villeneau, manned with three hundred and thirty-six men, and pierced for forty-four guns, ten of which however had been landed at Cayenne, from whence she had just returned. Captain Pierrepont makes the strongest acknowledgments of the ardour by which his officers and men were animated during an anxious chace of thirty-two hours, in constant expectation of battle, and most particularly of the services which he experienced from his First Lieutenant Mr Marshall.

Both his Majesty's ships with the prizes have arrived at Plymouth.

Copy of a Letter from Sir THOMAS WILLIAMS, Captain of his Majesty's ship Endymion, to EVAN NEPEAN, Esq dated at Spithead, the 5th instant.

SIR,

YOU will be pleased to inform my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, that his Majesty's ship Endymion, under my command, is arrived at Spithead, having taken from the enemy the three ships herein described:

The Britannia English Extra India ship, from Bengal to London, valuably laden, taken by the Huron French privateer.

La Sophie French ship privateer, of twenty guns and one hundred and thirty men, eighty-two days out, had taken nothing. La Sophie is a very fine ship, quite new, and well adapted for his Majesty's service, being an extraordinary fast sailer; she having been chased eight different times during her last cruize by our ships of war, and each time escaped by superior sailing.

The May Flower, of New York, from Lisbon to London, taken by Le Telemaque French cutter privateer. I have the honour to be, &c

THO. WILLIAMS.

Copy of a Letter from Rear Admiral HARVEY, Commadder in Chief of his Majesty's ships at the Leeward Islands, to Mr NEPEAN, dated Prince of Wales, Fort Royal Bay, Martinique, July 14, 1798.

I have to acquaint you, for the information of their Lordships, that since my letter to you of the 12th ult the undermentioned French privateers, belonging to Guadaloupe, have been captured at the periods, and by the ships and vessels of his Majesty's squadron under my command, as against their several names expressed.

By the Solebay, Captain Poyntz, 13th ult. off Martinique, Le Destin schooner, of four guns and forty-six men.

By the Matilda, Captain Mitford, 23d ult. to the northward of Antigua, L'Eloile sloop, of six guns and fifty-three men.

By the Hawke, Captain Rotheram, 8th inst. off St. Lucia, Le Mahomet schooner, of four guns and thirty-four men.

These lands lie at the end almost of the Bridge of Perth, are finely situated for building, command an extensive prospect of the town and country round, and are particularly well adapted for villas.

For further particulars, apply to Mr James Buchan, W. S. Edinburgh; or to Mr George Condie, writer, Perth.

Note.—Feus of the above grounds are objects deserving the attention of builders, not only because of the pleasantness of the situation, but that stone, lime, and wood can be got on a very short land carriage.

LIVERPOOL, February 12. 1798.

MR LIGNUM

I TAKE the opportunity of forwarding this.—The inclosed is the attestation of Peter Gilbank, who came voluntarily forward and swore to the truth thereof, which I thought proper to transmit to you, and am, Sir,

Mr LIGNUM, Surgeon, at his Dispensary, No. 57. Bridge Street, Manchester

IT is with the greatest pleasure I acquaint you of the ease and comfort I enjoy from the use of your invaluable Drops. After being afflicted with a violent scorbutic eruption for twenty three years, which entirely covered my body, I am perfectly cured by taking only three bottles of your Antiscorbutic Drops; and have continued perfectly sound for the last fourteen months. I communicate this to you for the benefit of the afflicted,

And am, Sir, your most humble servant,

PETER GILBANK.

Liverpool, Strand Street, No. 54.

Sworn before me, one of his Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the borough of Liverpool, this second day day of February 1798. GEO. DUNBAR.

☞ These Drops are sold in moulded bottles square bottles at 12s. and 4s. 6d.—One 12s. bottle is equal in quantity to three 4s. 6d. ones. They may be had, wholesale and retail, at Mr LIGNUM's, No. 57, Bridge Street, Manchester, and by appointment, by

R. SCOTT, APOTHECARY,
No 8. South Bridge, Edinburgh; and by

Mr Keltie, perfumer, No. 15. St. Andrew's Street, N. Town.
Mr Coke, bookseller, Leith.
Messrs. Johnston & Bisset, Perth
Mr Angus Macdonald, jeweller, and Mr Mennons, printer, Glasgow.
Mr Scott, surgeon, Kelso.
Mr Dickson, druggist, Dumfries

N.B. Mr Scott and Mr M'Donald being appointed wholesale agents for Scotland, Patent Medicine Venders may be supplied with any quantity on the same terms as at the Dispensary in Manchester.

A FARM TO LET

In the county of Fife, immediately adjoining to the town of St Andrews, to be entered to at Martinmas first.

THE Lands of PILMOR and PILMOR LINKS, consisting of about 280 acres, about 80 acres whereof are at present arable; a considerable part more may be improved at a very small expence. The remainder of the lands are at present used as a sheep walk, and one of the best in this country for that purpose, as it is not only a dry situation, but there is abundance of shelter for the sheep at all seasons.

Any intending offerers will please give in their proposals to Mr Erskine of Cambo, the proprietor; Mr John Campbell, jun. W. S. Edinburgh; or to Mr Stewart Grace, town-clerk of St Andrews.

ARGYLL-SHIRE.

THE ESTATE of GLENFEOCHAN is to be Sold, by public roup, within the Royal Exchange Coffeehouse, Edinburgh, upon Monday the 12th day of November 1798, between the hours of two and three afternoon.

This Estate is worthy the attention of Gentlemen wishing to procure a pleasant and comfortable residence in the Highlands of Scotland, as few, if any, are to be met with possessed of equal advantages, both natural and acquired. It is situated on Lochfeochen, an arm of the sea, near to the port of Oban, in the beautiful country of Lorn. The soil is excellent, and the farms in general extensive. The mansion-house is neat, and fit for a genteel family, having servants apartments, and a new court of offices, &c. in the highest order. There is an excellent garden, florked with choice fruit trees, and the garden wall, gardener's house, &c. in good order. Also a thriving orchard, and extensive plantations, containing a variety of trees. The woods upon the estate are of considerable value, and there is the appearance of a valuable lead mine upon one of the farms.

The water of Feeahan affords abundance of trout, and there is a Salmon Fishing, and the greatest variety of sea fish. The muirs are the best in the country for game.

The free rent is about 450l. sterling, the particulars of which, with a plan and measurement of the lands, may be seen by applying to Mr Keith, accountant or Mr Ferrier, writer to the signet, Edinburgh; either of whom will give every other information desired, and will receive private offers for the purchase of the estate, betwixt and the day of sale.

SALE OF LANDS IN ARGYLE——AND HOUSE IN GREENOCK.

To be SOLD in the course of the ensuing Winter, the time and place to be afterwards mentioned—

The following SUBJECTS, in the Lots after mentioned:

LOT I.

THE LANDS and ESTATE of ASHFIELD, or Largnahunsheon and Cruddelasa, with the two merk Land of Dryneck, or Drynock—four merk Land of Dalur and Auchelebrain, the Island called Island Loan or Elantown, and other Island belonging to the estate, excepting the pendicle called Darrochnachemurchie, all lying within the Lordship and Parish of North Knapdale, and shire of Argyle.

These Lands lying contiguous, are situated on the west coast of Argyleshire, and on the east side of the arm of the sea, called Lochsween, within five miles of the Crinan Canal. The arable ground which is of considerable extent, of good quality, and the hill which is very extensive, stretching back about 3 miles from shore, affords excellent pasture for sheep and black cattle. The shores which extend about three miles along Lochsween, produce considerable quantities of sea ware, fit for kelp or manure. There is a good Mansion House on the Lands of Ashfield, and the Farm Houses, March Dykes, and subdivisions are in good order.

At present the Lands are let to substantial tenants, for above 173l. of nett rent, but on the expiry of the leases in 1805, a considerable rise may be expected.

Besides a very extensive natural wood, which is fit for cutting—there are on the estate several thriving and well inclosed plantations of fir and other timber, about 19 years old. The woods being situated on the coast may be transported to a market at a small expence.

The Lands abound with black and red game, and roes are to be found in the woods. In Loch Sween there are abundance of all kinds of sea fish, and several oyster banks.

LOT II.

That Large TENEMENT or DWELLING-HOUSE, lying in the town of Greenock, which belonged to and was possessed by the deceased John Campbell of Ashfield, writer in Greenock, with the several Pieces of Ground, and whole other Heritable Property in that town which belonged to Mr Campbell.

Persons desirous of viewing the lands may apply to John Campbell, tenant in Ashfield, or Alexander Campbell, woodkeeper there; and for further information application may be made to Mr Thomas Kibble, writer in Paisley, Mr William Parker, banker in Kilmarnock, Mr William Brown, writer there, or Thomas Adair, clerk to the siget.

LANDS AND SUPERIORITIES IN AYRSHIRE.

To be SOLD by public roup, within the house of James Manson, innkeeper at Tarbolton, upon Thursday the 27th day of September curt. at one o'clock afternoon,

THE FOLLOWING LANDS, lying in the parish of Tarbolton, in the Lots aftermentioned:

LOT I.—The LANDS of BURNHOUSEHALL, with the teinds and pertinents, as presently possessed by John Burne—The lands hold of the Prince, consist of 150 acres or thereby, are all arable, of an excellent soil, all inclosed and subdivided, and the dykes and hedges all thriving, and in the best condition;—the present rent thereof is only 90l. Sterling, but at the expiry of the current tack, which endures only six years from Martinmas next, will yield more than double rent.—These lands are rated in the cess-books of the county at 188l. 9s. 8d. Scots.

LOT II.—The LANDS of HIGH and LAIGH RAITHS, and LITTLE LADYKIRK, with the teinds and pertinents, as presently possessed in three different farms by John Dick, Robert Cairnie, and William M'Jannet. These lands also hold of the Prince, consist, as the others, of 150 acres or thereby, are all likewise arable, of an excellent soil, all inclosed and subdivided, and the whole dykes and hedges surrounding and subdividing each farm, thriving, and in the best condition. The rents of the farms in this lot are no more at present than 87l. 10s. Sterling, the tacks expiring at Martinmas 1806, 1807, and 1808, when the rent will more than double. The lands in this lot are rated and stand in the cess-books of the county at 118l. 14s. 6d. Scots.—There are good farm houses on each of those farms, which were all built since the commencement of the present tacks.

There is an excellent free stone quarry in Little Ladykirk of the same quality with an adjoining one wrought by Mr Gairdner. It is believed there are also both coal and lime stone in the lands, although the same have not yet been wrought, and little search made for them. The farthest extremities of both lots are within four measured miles of the town of Ayr, to which there is an excellent toll road, and on each of them there are sundry situations for building mansion-houses, the best perhaps to be found in Ayrshire, commanding a most extensive view of the Frith of Clyde, Craig of Islay, Island of Arran, town and harbour of Ayr, &c.—The purchaser of each lot will be assigned to a charter lately expede, the precept of which has never been exhausted.

LOT III.—The SUPERIORITY of the LANDS of LAIGHLAND and LOCKER MOSS, which pay an yearly feu-duty of 6ol. Sterling. The casualties of superiority are not taxed—a full year's rent of the lands is therefore due at the entry of a singular successor, and a double of the feu-duty at the entry of an heir to the feu, which consists of about 1100 acres of highly improved land.

The lands of Laighland hold of the Crown, are retoured to a five pound land prior to the year 1681, and the superior now stands for the same in the roll of Freeholders of the county.

LOT IV.—The SUPERIORITY of the Fifty Shilling Land of GOLDRING, now called ROSEMOUNT, which pays a yearly feu-duty of eight bolls of bear, 13s. 7½d. in money, and nine capons. The casualties of Superiority are not taxed, so that one year's rent of the Land will be due at the entry of the next singular successor, which is expected to be high, as the property is very greatly improved, and lies in the best cultivated part of Ayrshire. A double feu-duty is also payable at the entry of every heir. Other eligible circumstances attend the property, as will be found upon enquiry.

Persons desirous of viewing the lands may apply to Mr James Cairnie, factor; and for other information as to the title-deeds and articles of roup, to Mr Thomas Martin, No. 1. George Street, Edinburgh, of Mr John Boswell, writer in Ayr, to either of whom any person inclining to make a private bargain may apply.

PRINTED BY ROBERT ALLAN, OLD FISH MARKET CLOSE, EVERY MONDAY, THURSDAY, AND SATURDAY.—Price L. 3: 18s. per annum, when called for.—L. 4. delivered in Town, or in Leith; and L. 4: 4s. sent by Post.
